Interior of Bergen County Courthouse Rotunda in Hackensack, NJ

Opened in February 1912, the Bergen County Courthouse is actually the sixth courthouse in Bergen County's history. Designed by prominent architect James Riely Gordon (1863-1937) in the Beaux Art style reflecting monuments of classical Rome and Italian Renaissance (as well as the U.S. Capitol), the Courthouse incorporates rich materials including marble and bronze.

The exterior statues were sculpted under the personal direction of John Gelert, a well-known sculptor from New York City who emigrated to the U.S. from Denmark in 1887. The statue on the top of the dome's cupola is "Enlightenment Fiving Power." The marble statues flanking the main steps represent History and Law, and the statues on the crown of the front corners of the two-story entrance pavilion depict "Truth," "Justice," "Integrity," "Honor," "Law," and "Order."

The interior dome which spirals upwards with rows of geometric recessed coffered panels includes a magnificent eight-paneled stained glass window, produced by the famous Tiffany Studios. The panels depict primitively rendered human figures each holding a banner that memorialize the names of seven historically significant English and American jurists, celebrating the English and American precedents that are the foundations of our country's legal system.

In 1937, under the direction of artist William Winter (a Teaneck resident), painters for the Federal Art Project of the Works Project Administration created murals in a number of the courtrooms. Themes of the murals include "the roots of American law," "Bergen County historical sites," and "Roman Law."

The County is currently completing a major, historically sensitive renovation of the Courthouse.

BERGEN COUNTY

- Mission Statement -

The County of Bergen is committed to providing vital programs and resources to all County residents, taking care of our most vulnerable, embracing our diversity - inclusive of all unique abilities - and protecting our rich heritage. In partnership with our communities and citizens, the County of Bergen is committed to delivering fiscally responsible services in a personal and innovative manner.

BERGEN COUNTY EXECUTIVE

JAMES J. TEDESCO, III

James J. Tedesco, III is currently serving his third term as Bergen County Executive – only the second person in the history of county government to be elected to the role three times. Since taking office in 2015, County Executive Tedesco has focused on improving quality of life and services for county residents while also creating greater efficiency and effectiveness throughout county government. Under his leadership, Tedesco's administration restored $6.5 million in education funding and has continued to expand the County's investments in education initiatives at Bergen Community College and the County's Technical and Special Services School Districts ten years in a row. He has also spearheaded initiatives to expand shared services, revitalized the 4th largest public hospital in the nation – Bergen New Bridge Medical Center, increased services and support for U.S. military veterans and their families, and been recognized by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) as the first county in New Jersey to end homelessness among veterans.

In his third term, Tedesco has continued his work advocating for the most vulnerable with the implementation of the Office of Food Security and the Office of LGBTQ+ Services, established the Bergen County Emergency Medical Services, and has focused on the modernization of the Bergen County Parks System in order to promote year-round recreational opportunities for generations to come, as outlined in the 2019 Parks Master Plan.

A volunteer firefighter for almost 50 years, Tedesco previously served as both Fire Chief and Mayor of Paramus, and it is this call to serve that embodies his civic duties.

Tedesco is the father to three adult children, Koren, James J. Tedesco IV, and Holly, and the proud grandfather to six grandchildren.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

The Board of Commissioners is the County's legislative body, giving advice and consent to the actions of the County Executive. The board provides a check on the executive's powers and acts as a formulator of policy. Its powers include the ability to adopt the county's administrative code, pass ordinances and resolutions, review, modify, and adopt operating and capital budgets, and contract with municipalities.

Germaine M. Ortiz
Commissioner Chairwoman

Chairwoman Germaine Ortiz was first elected to the Bergen County Board of County Commissioners in 2016 and in 2019 became the first Latina to lead the Board as Chairwoman. She holds a dual Bachelor's Degree from Seton Hall University in both Spanish & Communications. She also completed her certification in Securities Analysis at the New York Institute of Finance. Chairwoman Ortiz takes great pride in making sure the concerns of Bergen County residents from all backgrounds are heard and remains committed to ensuring investments made by the residents of Bergen County are maximized to help our community.

Mary J. Amoroso
*Commissioner
Vice Chairwoman*

Mary Amoroso was first elected to the Board of County Commissioners in 2016. In 2014, Mary won election to the Mahwah Town Council. She grew up in Bergenfield and lives in Mahwah. Mary is a passionate advocate for women, children, and families in Bergen County. In her previous career, Mary was an award-winning reporter for The Bergen Record, where she covered local, county, and state issues, as well as federal politics. She also wrote a popular parenting column called, "The Pressured Parent."

Dr. Joan M. Voss
*Commissioner
Chair Pro Tempore*

Dr. Joan M. Voss is currently the Chair Pro Tempore of the Board of Commissioners. She served in the New Jersey Assembly from 2003 to 2012, and as a Fort Lee Councilwoman from 1993 to 2004. Dr. Voss is a lifelong educator and served in Fort Lee High School from 1963 to 2003 as a teacher and administrator.

Rafael Marte
Commissioner

Rafael Marte was appointed to the Board in March 2023 after decades of dedicated public service. Marte served for nearly 30 years as a social worker at the Westchester Department of Social Services. He also served two terms on the Bergenfield Borough Council before becoming a Commissioner. He is a proud advocate of Social Services, Veterans, and Community Development, and founded the Dominican Cultural Association of NJ.

Thomas J. Sullivan
Commissioner

Tom Sullivan has a history of strong leadership and ambition. He began his career in 1985 as an apprentice electrician and rose to his current role as President of Local 164 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. In 2021, Tom was elected President of the Bergen County Building Trades Organization. He previously served on the councils of Bergenfield and Montvale, and has spent the past 9 years championing resident advocacy as a Bergen County Commissioner. Tom resides in Montvale with his wife Jody and daughters Kenzie, Jadyn, and Kerrin.

Steven A. Tanelli
Commissioner

Commissioner Steve Tanelli was first elected in 2012. He previously served as Chairman in 2016 and 2021, Vice Chair in 2015, and Chair Pro Tempore in 2020. He chairs the Parks Committee and championed Bergen County's first ever Parks Master Plan in 2019. He also sits on the Open Space Trust Fund Board, the BCIA, School Estimate, Veteran, and Flood Advisory Councils. He holds a BA from Montclair State University.

Tracy Silna Zur
Commissioner

Tracy Silna Zur, a life-long Bergen County resident, holds a B.A from the University of Texas, a law degree from Fordham University, and a Master's in Public Administration from Rutgers. During her last ten years as a Commissioner, Tracy has led the charge to implement and expand Project SEARCH, launched Bergen County's annual LGBTQ Youth Summit, and spearheaded the formation of the Bergen County Food Security Task Force, now the Office of Food Security.

EDUCATION IN BERGEN COUNTY

Bergen County public schools rank among the best in the nation. The County of Bergen supports two countywide school districts, the Bergen County Technical School District and the Bergen County Special Services School District.

Founded in 1942, the Bergen County Technical School District's secondary programs include Applied Technology High School, a full-time high school program with a concentration in engineering technology located on the campus of Bergen Community College; the Bergen County Academies, seven career technical high school programs that meld college prep classes with a career focus; Bergen County Technical High School/Paramus, a secondary program with a full-time option for special needs students and a shared-time option for students from local sending districts; and Bergen County Technical High School/Teterboro, a full-time program with nine technical concentrations. The district also offers full- and part-time technical instruction to over 18,000 secondary and adult students. BCTS Adult and Continuing Education Division and Bergen Workforce Center provide education, job skills training, career planning, and job search assistance.

The Bergen County Special Services School District supports students with disabilities. Programs for students ranging from pre-elementary to secondary (ages 3-21) are structured around five separate divisions called continuums. These include the Auditory or Communication Skills Continuum, the Autistic Continuum, the Behavioral Skills Continuum, the Life Skills Continuum, and the Pre-School Continuum. Through these groupings, the district serves students with a variety of physical and cognitive disabilities. In addition, there are adult programs, professional support services for students, transition services and other specialized programs that address the needs of the county and local school districts.

COUNTY DEPARTMENTS

The Department of Administration and Finance, led by the County Administrator, manages the day-to-day operations of county government and ensures, under the leadership of the County Treasurer, that the county has adequate funding to support these operations. The Department includes the Offices of Economic Development, Public Information, Information Technology, Fiscal Operations, Personnel, Community Development, Purchasing, Risk Management, Shared Services, and Treasury.

The Department of Health Services supports the health and well-being of the residents of Bergen County. Its divisions and programs include Addiction Recovery Program, Animal Control, Animal Shelter & Adoption Center, Cancer Education & Early Detection, Environmental Health, Emergency Preparedness & Response, Health Promotion, Mental Health & Addiction Services, and the Spring House for Women.

The Department of Human Services assesses the needs of the county's most vulnerable residents, manages resources to meet those needs, and coordinates delivery of resources to residents in need. The Department's divisions and programs include Alternatives to Domestic Violence, the Office of Child Development, Office of Childcare Resources, Disability Services, Family Guidance, Office of Food Security, Office of LGBTQ+ Services, Senior Services, and Veterans Services.

The Department of Law, led by the County Counsel, maintains two divisions. The County Counsel's Office is legal counsel to the County Executive and the county's eight departments. Within the office of County Counsel, the Inspector General is tasked with promoting efficiency, accountability, and integrity in the County government by investigating complaints of fraud and abuse. The Adjuster's Office is the liaison between the courts and the psychiatric institutions of the state. The Adjuster performs investigations and assists in the processing of gun applications.

The Department of Parks manages the recreational and cultural facilities and services of the county. Bergen County boasts a vast and vibrant parks system with close to 10,000 acres where residents can ski, skate, jog, cycle, golf, picnic, camp, tour a zoo, visit a Revolutionary War battle site, take a guided nature hike, swim, and play softball and tennis. Among the county's facilities are a zoo, six golf courses, 19 parks, two stables, an environmental center, and eight historic sites.

The Department of Planning and Engineering plans and manages projects and initiatives impacting land, the environment, transportation, and infrastructure throughout Bergen County. Its divisions include the Division of Engineering and the Division of Planning. Within those divisions, there are offices for Engineering- Structures, Engineering- Traffic, Office of Land Use, Development Review & Capital Projects, Office of Regional Planning & Transportation, and the Office of Data Resources & Technology. It also encompasses the Bergen County Planning Board and the Construction Board of Appeals.

The Department of Public Safety provides public safety services for the County. Included in this Department are the divisions of Safety and Security, Public Safety Communications, Consumer Affairs/Consumer Protection, Emergency Management, Medical Examiner, Bergen EMS, Public Safety Education, and Weights and Measures.

The Department of Public Works maintains the county's 452 miles of roads, 173 bridges, and more than 1 million square feet of county buildings. Its six divisions are Administration, Community Transportation, General Services, Operations, Mechanical Services, and Mosquito Control.

BERGEN COUNTY HISTORY

First designated as a judicial district in 1675, Bergen County was established (alongside Essex, Middlesex, and Monmouth) as one of four original New Jersey counties by an act of the Provincial Assembly in 1683. At that time, Bergen County's borders extended into what are now Passaic (formed in 1837) and Hudson (formed in 1840) Counties. Today, Bergen County is a 233-square-mile parcel of land in the northeast corner of the state, with a population of 957,736 people.

Hackensack, which takes its name from a Lenni Lenape word believed to mean "stony ground," was designated as the County Seat in 1710. The oldest records of county governance are May 19, 1715, and describe a meeting of the Bergen County Board of Freeholders and Justices that resulted in the decision to construct a building housing both the County Court House and County Jail, which would rise on Hackensack's Historic Green the following year.

Bergen County observed the 300th anniversary of its founding on March 7, 1983. In celebration of the County's tri-centennial, a new seal of Bergen County was created. While retaining many elements as the old seal which had been used since 1910, the new seal more authentically represented the County's history. In 1984, the county voters elected members of the Bergen County Charter Study Commission, which was tasked with evaluating the County's nine-member Freeholder form of government. The commission recommended that voters approve a change to the County Charter to establish a County Executive-led form of government while reducing the number of Freeholders from nine to seven.

In 1985, voters approved the commission's recommended changes to the County Charter and established the position of County Executive. Since the position was established, five individuals have served as Bergen County Executive - the first, William D. McDowell, was elected to a four-year term in November 1986. The seven members of the Board of Commissioners are elected at-large for staggered three-year terms. Excluding special elections or appointments to unexpired terms, all county officials take office January 1st in the year following their elections. In 2020, the Governor of New Jersey signed legislation requiring the title "Chosen Freeholder" to be changed to "County Commissioner."
